

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

26 October 1978

ARTICLE APPEARED
ON PAGE A-2

National

Threat To CIA

WASHINGTON — CIA Director Stansfield Turner said Wednesday intelligence leaks have caused U.S. allies to lose confidence in this country's ability to keep secrets and often has prompted friendly nations to hold back information. "The real danger is that we will be unable to conduct necessary operations because of the risks that they would be disclosed," he said. Intelligence abuses are "far less today than any time in our history," he said.

Club
CIA/01 TURNER, Adm.